50 YEARS AND STILL GOING STRONG

This year sees K Home International mark its half century in business, founded in 1973 by Ken Home the company has worked on projects across the world, offering engineering design and project management services for industrial plants, and still remains a family run business on the same working ethos as when it was began.

Highlights of the past 50 years include winning the Queens Award for Export in 1998, in 2003 Ken was awarded an OBE and in 2005 the firm also won the Queens Award for Enterprise.

The company is proud to be a Teesside based company and to have given employment to so many local people over the years as well as training a significant number of apprentices many of whom have gone on to take up senior engineering roles within the area.

To recognise this achievement the company signage was replaced incorporating the companies 50th anniversary logo, attended by the company's senior management and some of its longest serving employees Dave Nunn and Steve Gaythorpe with over 60 years service between them and its newest engineering apprentice Luke Johnson.
