New Apprentice

K Home International (KHI) is proud to welcome its latest apprentice Luke Johnson. Luke is the latest in a long line of apprentices, over 50, who have started out their careers at KHI many going on to take up senior positions in local, national and international companies with many then returning to KHI.

Luke joined our Electrical engineering section at the beginning of September after having completing his first Level 3 in Electrical and Electronic Engineering at Middlesbrough College. Luke will be working under the supervision of Steven Wells our Principal Electrical Engineer who started his apprenticeship at KHI 25 years ago this week, we all would like to wish Luke all the best in what we hope will be a long and successful career
